Empty toners, or course, but I can put WHAT in The Box?

Leftover Computer Cables and Cords!

Darrell is "Mr. Pack Rat". Everyone in the office dumps their unused computer cables and cords on him because they know he will "find a good use for them someday". BUT now he's got to make room for a pallet of unused, antique accounting ledger books he got on Ebay for $1. Ed is smart, he read the flyer that comes in The Box from Advantage Laser Products and knows that Advantage will recycle his cable and cord collection.

When he returned his empty toner cartridge, he just packed the cables in with the empty and it didn't cost him a penny. He's frugal too.

Thanks Darrell...for reading our inserts.

The Box* - An invaluable tool for the American workplace, providing a million and one re-uses for your office or home. Keep it for storage, recycle with it, make a battery collection box, or even retire worn American flags.

Made in Atlanta, Georgia, and found only at Advantage Laser Products. For ages 3 and above, please re-use responsibly.

*When returning your empty cartridges to Advantage, you may include computer cables and power cords, dead batteries, cell phones, eye-glasses, cd/dvd's, ink cartridges, children's books, and worn-out American Flags.

Warning: recycling these items will have absolutely NO affect on global warming or global cooling, BUT if they go in the landfill, they will stay there a long long long time. So why not convert them to a new use and put few more people to work in the process?

If The Box does nothing for you, maybe this will, keep reading...
